Summary:

Six men convicted of raping two vulnerable schoolgirls have been sentenced to a combined 55 and a half years in prison. A seventh man will be sentenced tomorrow. The sickening abuse took place between 1995 and 2011 in Huddersfield and the girls were aged just 13 and 14 when they fell victim to the vile gang. The court heard that the schoolgirls were 'made to feel special' by the 'vile and wicked' predators who then treated them as 'objects to be used and abused at will'.

Commentary by Danial Greenfield on Jihad Watch:

- Manchester 2020 - Report on Operation Augusta [42]

European Convention of Human Rights-Issues with Sharia:

In Islamic family law, men have authority over women. Surah 4:34 states: "Men have authority over women... While wives clearly have a duty of fidelity, husbands do not."

In Sharia law, adultery is strictly prohibited. Legal doctrine holds that the evidence must take the form of corroborating testimony from four witnesses to prove an individual's guilt. Those witnesses must be men of good repute and good Muslims. The punishment is severe and degrading, namely "a hundred lashes". In the case of rape, which is seldom committed in public before four male witnesses who are good Muslims, punishing the rapist is difficult if not impossible. In practice, this obliges women to be accompanied by men when they go out and is not conducive to their independence.

While divorce by mutual consent is enshrined in Islamic law, the application has to come from the wife, since the husband can repudiate his wife at any time.

There is also the question of equal rights with regard to divorce arrangements.

For division of an estate among the heirs, distinctions are made according to the sex of the heir. A male heir has a double share, whereas a female heir has a single share. The rights of a surviving wife are half those of a surviving husband.

In criminal cases, cruel, inhuman and degrading punishments are authorized by Sharia law including: death by stoning, beheading and hanging, amputation of limbs and flogging.

Apostasy results, firstly, in the apostate's civil death, with the estate passing to the heirs, and, secondly, in the apostate's execution if he or she does not recant.

Lastly, non-Muslims do not have the same rights as Muslims in civil and criminal law, which is discrimination on the ground of religion within the meaning of Article 14 of the Convention.

Summary:

Of course it doesn't help that police and media tend to forever be on the side of the Muslim rapists here in the UK. All of these agencies are prepared to lay sacrifices on the altar of multiculturalism. We think we live in a modern society, but these rapes and killings harken back to the Aztecs and the blood sacrifices they offered to their Gods. Today the Gods that we offer up our sacrifices to are those Muslim men whose satanic impulses must be met and sated regardless the cost. In all these millennia, we haven't really travelled that far after all.

We still tolerate a bloodlust, and those who swear oaths to protect us are high priests who assist with the procuring and killings. With the Muslim male gangs in our society, the devil truly does walk among us.

We've been told by a variety of Muslim public figures, as well as journalists and spokespersons for Muslim groups here in the UK, that the systematic and relentless raping of mostly underage white girls has got 'nothing to do with Islam', and everything to do with the night-time economy. The reality is that it is only Muslim taxi drivers and the night-time workers in Muslim-owned fast food outlets who are the perpetrators of these rapes. Think for a minute about other night-time workers who are not listed in Police Scotland's guide.

In the moments before he raped the 12-year-old girl, the Islamic State fighter took the time to explain that what he was about to do was not a sin. Because the preteen girl practiced a religion other than Islam, the Quran not only gave him the right to rape her — it condoned and encouraged it, he insisted.

Before and after the rape, the man prostrated himself in prayer. "He told me," said the girl, "that according to Islam he is allowed to rape an unbeliever. He said that by raping me, he is drawing closer to God."

A scripture-based religion is not simply what its adherents (and others) would like it to be; it has a discernible content. While Christianity and Judaism allow for the development of doctrine, there is no similar provision in Islam. The vast majority of Muslims believe that scripture must be interpreted in the literal sense, and, if one does that, one cannot easily dismiss the Islamic State's teachings about sex slavery.

For a long time, many Western citizens have deceived themselves about Islam. They were sure that jihad was primarily an "interior struggle" rather than a religious war. They denied that Islamic law prescribed the death penalty for apostasy. Contrary to all the evidence, they persisted in believing that there is no compulsion in the Islamic religion. Now, by refusing to believe that there is a theological justification for sex slavery, they are in denial again. One wonders how much more evidence they will require.
